California Consumer Privacy Act

Effective January 1, 2020, the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA) provides California residents with specific rights regarding their personal information.

YOUR RIGHTS

Under the CCPA, you (or another person you authorize to act on your behalf) have the right to:

- Know what personal information Ventura County Credit Union (VCCU) has collected about you during the previous twelve (12) months
- Know if VCCU sells your information (we do not and have not sold member personal information)
- Request that VCCU disclose
 - What personal information VCCU has about you
 - What is the purpose for collecting personal information
 - Sources from which VCCU collects personal information
 - Who VCCU shares your personal information with
- Receive a copy of personal information collected in the preceding 12 months
- Request the deletion of personal information (subject to certain exceptions) and
- Not be discriminated against because of choices regarding personal information

VCCU may not disclose or delete certain personal information due to prevailing state and federal regulations governing financial institutions. In addition, requests for disclosure or deletion of personal information is subject to verification according to credit union policies and procedures.

INFORMATION WE COLLECT ABOUT YOU

To help us serve your financial needs, provide services, and offer new products and services to you, we collect personally identifiable information about you from:

- Information we receive from you on online applications, forms, surveys and instructions;
- Information about your transactions with us, our affiliates, and others; and,
- Information we receive from consumer reporting agencies.

Examples include:

- Names and aliases
- Addresses – postal, email
- Electronic - user name, IP address, social media
- Identification – Social Security number, account information, driver's license,
